DISPUTE OVER BABY RESULTS IN HOMICIDE

Connellsville (P)—A 24-year-old Cambria County man, holding his infant daughter in his arms, was killed late yesterday by a .22 calibre bullet fired into the back of his head.

The child was not injured as her father, Roy Fletcher, 24, of Mineral Point, fell to the ground fatally wounded.

Police today held Jesse Taylor, 28, brother of Fletcher's wife who died last June, on a charge of suspicion of murder. Fayette County Detective George E. McCloskey, who said Taylor admitted firing the fatal bullet, gave this version:

Fletcher's infant daughter had been cared for by Mrs. Elizabeth Zebley of Dunbar RD 1 since the child's mother died. Taylor lived at the Zebley home.

Late yesterday afternoon Fletcher, accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Flora Miller Fletcher; his fiancée, Sarah Pople; his brother George Fletcher; and a friend, Steve Wackley, all of Mineral Point, drove to the Zebley home. Fletcher told Mrs. Zebley he intended to marry Miss Pople, and wanted to take the baby home with him. Mrs. Zebley objected.

Taylor, who overheard the argument, walked into the house, returned with a revolver and as Fletcher and his friends got into their car Taylor told Fletcher: "I don't want any trouble but I want the child."

Fletcher, holding the child, got out of the car and was shot. Mrs. Zebley took the child into the house and the occupants of the car drove away, leaving Fletcher lying by the road. South Connellsville firemen who were called a short time later, took him to Connellsville State Hospital where he died at 7 p. m.

Meanwhile police had started a search for Taylor who drove away towards Connellsville but later returned to the Zebley home. State police received a report that he had returned there, and arrested him about 7:30 p. m. They confiscated a pistol, apparently the one from which the fatal shot was fired.

Three blondes and a brunette are the front-runners going into the third round of preliminary judging tonight in the annual Miss America Pageant.

The brunettes are Miss Hawaii, 20-year-old Jere Wright of Honolulu who topped the first round in the swimsuit division last night. She was the favorite of judges and audience alike as she paraded down the long runway in Convention Hall.

She shared the night's laurels with Miss Arkansas, 18-year-old Barbara Banks of Conway, who was judged best in the talent competition with her modern ballet number.

Two other blondes placed first in their divisions on Wednesday night. They were Miss California, Joan Colleen Beckett of Sacramento, in the battle of swimsuits; and Miss Alabama, Ann Stuart Atrial of Birmingham, in the talent section.

The girl who wins the title of Miss America 1957 in the finals tomorrow night won't necessarily be one of these four, however.

A group of citizens, comprising representatives of service clubs, health department, chamber of commerce, Jaycees, Zonta Club, Warren county medical society and Warren General Hospital, meeting for the second time to discuss the question of ambulance service for Warren borough and vicinity, disbanded last night, after a session at the Blue and White restaurant, when it was determined no further action would be taken, and the situation was the responsibility of Warren borough council.

Up to now, the matter of transporting the sick and the injured, has been taken care of by funeral

Segregation Issue Is Still Smoldering in Many Widely Separated Southern Spots

By The Associated Press

The segregation issue continued to smolder today in the principal southern hot spots.

Heavily armed Kentucky National guardsmen patrolled the streets of Sturgis during the night while a generally orderly crowd estimated at 1,000 cheered fiery segregation speeches in public parks.

Earlier yesterday guardsmen armed with riot guns and bayonets formed a solid wall to protect nine Negro students as they left the previously all-white Sturgis High School after their first day of classes.

Three hundred fifty students are enrolled at the school. About 175 left their classes yesterday.

An angry crowd of 500 shouted threats to "get you niggers if it takes all year," while the guardsmen pushed a path to three cars in which the students left.

Just before the Negroes came out of the school building, troops took a shotgun from an unidentified man in the crowd.

At Clinton, Tenn., where the National Guard restored order last weekend, citizens took a step toward preparing for the time when guardsmen will be withdrawn. An auxiliary police force was reorganized.

Adj. Gen. Joe Henry said his original National Guard force of 633 has been cut by 200 men. He indicated the National Guard may do a gradual fade out instead of moving out en masse.

This reminded town people of the question: What happens when the guard pulls out? Several persons have expressed fear of reprisals for sending their children to the integrated school. Some told of threats that their homes would be dynamited.

At Knoxville, Tenn., the man blamed by many Clinton citizens for stirring the population to a frenzy on the race issue was granted bail while appealing a one-year sentence on a contempt of court conviction. Bail for John Kasper of Washington, D. C., was fixed at $10,000. The bail was not posted immediately.

U. S. District Judge Robert L. Taylor found Kasper guilty of violating an injunction prohibiting him from interfering with integration of the Clinton school.

Justice Minton Will Retire October 15th

Washington (P)—Justice Sherman Minton of the Supreme Court today announced that he will retire on Oct. 15.

Minton said he is leaving because of impaired health. He will be 66 on Oct. 20.

In a letter sent to the White House this morning, Minton notified President Eisenhower of his plan.

Appointed by President Harry Truman, Minton went on the Supreme Court bench Oct. 12, 1949. Previously he served more than eight years on the U. S. Circuit Court in Chicago.

This gives him sufficient years in federal courts for him to retire at full pay of $35,000 a year.

CARTOONIST KILLED

Westport, Conn. (P)—Alexander Raymond, 47, a cartoonist who originated the "Flash Gordon" strip and currently drew the "Rip Kirby" series, was inured fatally yesterday in an automobile accident. Raymond was identified as the driver of a Chevrolet Corvette sports car that slammed into a tree and rolled over. Injured seriously was the car's owner, Stanley Drake, of Westport, another King Feature Syndicate artist, who penned the "Heart of Juliet Jones".

Committee Disbands Without Solving Ambulance Problem

A group of citizens, comprising representatives of service clubs, health department, chamber of commerce, Jaycees, Zonta Club, Warren county medical society and Warren General Hospital, meeting for the second time to discuss the question of ambulance service for Warren borough and vicinity, disbanded last night, after a session at the Blue and White restaurant, when it was determined no further action would be taken, and the situation was the responsibility of Warren borough council.

Up to now, the matter of transporting the sick and the injured, has been taken care of by funeral directors of the town, but they have given notice that service will cease on midnight, September 30th, and to date, there has been no private enterprise or voluntary organization to take over their duties.

Unless something is done soon, citizens of the borough and its environs will be left without this very necessary service.

This was the second meeting since July 10th, when conveyance of patients to and from the hospital was discussed at some length, and though no action was taken, vital data and a budget were turned over to the city fathers.

Three Registrants To Leave Monday Evening

Warren County Selective Service Board No. 162 announces it will send three registrants to New Cumberland next week for September Army inductions.

Paul Gordon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Gordon of 112 Conewango avenue, will be leader of the group entraining at the Pennsylvania station Monday night and inducted at New Cumberland on Tuesday.

With him will be John L. Cottillon, Warren, and Carl O. Stranburg, Tiona.

On the same east-bound train will be a group of 16 registrants who will undergo pre-induction physical examinations at New Cumberland Tuesday and return home on Wednesday.

Officials Bear Down on Probe Into Kidnaping

New Haven, Conn. (P)—Police are bearing down today with renewed intensity—and as though a solution were near—in their investigation of the Ruotolo baby case.

With an absence of interstate angles indicated, the FBI has officially stepped out of the probe although its facilities have been made available to local authorities.

Center of the vast probe moved quickly from Hamden police headquarters to the office of State's Atty. Abraham S. Ullman in the County Courthouse here last night after the 6-week-old baby, Cynthia, was found stuffed in a plastic bag in Hamden's Lake Whitney.

The child's mother, Eleanor Ruotolo, 33, told police the baby was snatched from her carriage in the foyer of a Sears Roebuck store Saturday, a mile from the lake.

It was shortly after three boys fishing had found the body that Ullman's office became the investigation's focal point.

Then about 11:30 p. m. Coroner Corrigan came out to tell newsman Cynthia, whose body was found in a plastic bag weighted down with a rock, had suffered a bruise on the left side of her head.

Corrigan said only a preliminary autopsy had been made and that he could not say whether Cynthia was dead before she was thrown into the lake, a New Haven Water Co. reservoir.

He said he has not issued a warrant for anyone's arrest and couldn't say then whether he would.

Astronomer Says There Are 'Canals' on Mars

By The Associated Press
A Japanese astronomer today reported seeing several "canals" in the northern hemisphere of the planet Mars—under close scrutiny by star gazers around the world.

The existence of such canals long has been the subject of great debate.

They were first reported many decades ago, but other observers who have spent a lifetime at telescopes failed to catch a glimpse of them.

The great question concerning the canals, assuming they do exist, is whether they are arteries such as waterways devised by intelligent beings or some kind of natural phenomena.

KILLED BY TRUCK

Pittsburgh (P)—Six-year-old Andrew Massaro was struck and killed by a truck today near his nearby Penn Twp. home. Police identified the driver as Ellison Cope, Rd. 1, Greensburg.

DAUPHIN D. A. IS REVIEWING PROBE PAPERS

Harrisburg (P)—Dist. Atty. Huette F. Dowling of Dauphin County called a conference of his staff today to review a demand for a grand jury probe of Pennsylvania Turnpike operations under Republican control.

Under notice by the Dauphin County Court to recommend whether such an investigation should be held, Dowling asserted: "This matter will be decided quickly—and no later than next week."

Dowling noted that Atty. Gen. Herbert B. Cohen has been probing the Turnpike Commission for nearly a year and that he wasn't aware of the allegations until Wednesday.

"There will be no information on my decision until it is presented to the court some time next week," he said.

Cohen's petition for a grand jury investigation listed charges of conspiracy, bribery and corrupt practices against several former and present members and employees of the Turnpike Commission.

They included Thomas J. Evans, former chairman, and James F. Torrance, a Republican hold-over on the five-man agency now controlled by the Democrats.

In another development, Dep. Atty. Gen. Victor Wright who presented the petition in behalf of Cohen, said contracts between the Turnpike Commission and a Reading engineering firm were made "without a semblance of legality."

He referred to Manu-Mines Research and Development Co. which the petition accused of conspiring with Evans to fleece the commission out of 19½ million dollars.

Navy Veteran New Commander of the American Legion

Los Angeles (P)—The American Legion set out today on a new crusade against communism after hearing a warning by Vice President Richard M. Nixon of communism's "serious threat to freedom" and a pledge by newly elected national Commander, Wilbur C. Daniel to fight its "despotic evils."

The Legion wound up its national convention last night by electing Daniel, a 42-year-old Navy veteran, to the highest office of the 2,800,000-member organization.

Daniel is from Danville, Va. Earlier, the convention heard Nixon call "the struggle against world communism the greatest challenge that free men ever faced."

Daniel said his administration would be dedicated to "elimination of subversive and other elements constantly at work seeking to undermine and destroy the freedoms that all patriotic Americans cherish and hold dear."

John F. Stay, Philadelphia, was elected a vice commander.

The Legion Auxiliary, meeting in conjunction with the Legion, elected Mrs. Carl Zeller of Gibsonsburg, Ohio, president.

Bodies of Marines Lost In Undertow Washed Up

Naha, Okinawa (P)—Two bodies were washed up on the beach today where 11 U. S. Marines drowned in an unexpected undercurrent yesterday.

Interruption of communications with remote "North Camp", where the drownings occurred, prevented any report on whether the bodies were identified. The U. S. 3rd Marine Division said, however, that helicopters and men of the 2nd Battalion, 9th regiment were continuing patrols in the hope of finding more bodies.

A preliminary report said the drownings occurred in waist deep water when the men went for a swim in their shorts after a hot day of work and field problems.

SUCCEEDS MRS. KEARNS

Chicago (P)—Mrs. Peter Gibson of Monroe, Mich., today was elected president of the National Federation of Republican Women. Mrs. Gibson succeeds Mrs. Carroll D. Kearns of Farrell, Pa., as head of the women's group which has 500,000 members in 4,000 clubs. The organization is holding its ninth biennial convention.

Minor League Pitcher Ends 'Home Run' in Warren Area

A 22-year-old pitcher from the PONY League Corning Red Sox found himself struck out by time about 1 o'clock Wednesday morning as he rocketed through Warren trying for the outside corner of Springfield, Mo.

Norman Tanner, pitching ace of the Bosox farm team, got no further than Miller's Tourist Camp west of Warren near the drive-in theatre when his wife pulled a "balk" and demanded he serve up a "walk" to Warren General Hospital where she could have a little "bat boy" (above).

This ended the "home run" and shortly after Grace V. Miller, proprietress of Miller's Tourist Court, had showed the couple the way to the hospital, another little leaguer had drawn first breath.

Both father and mother, Patricia Lambert Tanner, 20, are natives of Ontario, California. They said they had expected the little one momentarily while Norm finished out the season in Corning (Olean eliminated Corning from the playoffs Tuesday) and on doctor's advice had risked the trip to Springfield, Mo.

Norm said a daily comment when he reported for play each day was: "You passing cigs yet?" And he would shake his head sadly.

But the pitcher was philosophical about the entire episode which ended happily for all concerned. With a season record of 12 wins against 8 losses, the promising pitcher said his performance on the road never had been too good, but he had only dropped a single game at home.

The couple had been planning to go as far as Springfield and spend some time with the mother's aunt and grandmother before Robert J. weighed in at 7 pounds, 6 ounces, halting the trip.

And says daddy, who firmly believes that left-handed pitchers have the best of the deal, "If it's possible to cultivate a tendency, I certainly intend to hand him everything on the southpaw side."

Grandma Moses Quietly Observes 96th Birthday

Eagle Bridge, N. Y. (P)—The little lady known as Grandma Moses is 96 today.

Nothing elaborate is planned. Grandma likes it that way—the way her painting is. Its simple charm has gained her world recognition.

Mrs. Anna Mary Robertson Moses began painting in her late 70s. Today her work hangs in many of the great galleries of the world.

Her daughter, Mrs. Winona Fisher, says Grandma's eyesight is still "wonderful," and that her health is even slightly better than it was last year.

WORKMAN ELECTROCUTED

Waynesburg (P)—James Silvano, 58, of nearby Maple Sterling, was electrocuted yesterday while working in the Conti Custom coal mine in Dunkard Twp.

Eagle Rating Given 13 in Somerset Boy Scout Troop

Somerset (P)—A 13-member Boy Scout group made history here last night when the entire group simultaneously received Eagle rating—highest rank an American Boy Scout can earn.

The newly promoted Eagles of Troop 131, gave credit for the achievement to Capt. Fred Pyle of the Somerset Police Dept., their adult leader. But Pyle said: "The boys did all the work—I didn't."

John Minnick, a representative of Somerset Lions Club, which sponsors the unit said:

"We believe this will set a new state and national record with possibly one exception."

The Eagle rank was officially conferred on the 13 boys last night at a court of honor in Somerset High School.

A Scout must earn five merit badges to become a Life Scout, 10 to become a Star Scout and 21 to reach Eagle.

The police chief never was a Boy Scout.

Members of the group range in age from 14 to 18. Include two sets of brothers and two cousins. All are Somerset residents.

Pittsburgh Police Search for Bandits Who Stole $45,000

Pittsburgh (P)—Police today sought two bandits who stole a $45,000 payroll from two messengers of an engineering construction firm. The holdup was the largest in recent Pittsburgh history.

Ray Politt and Elmer Beck, messengers for the Eichleay Corp. were taking the payroll from a bank to the office in a company auto when the holdup occurred yesterday on Pittsburgh's Southside.

They said their car was blocked front and rear by autos driven by the bandits.

Politt and Beck said the thugs hopped out of their autos and approached the company car, one on each side. Each thrust a hand, covered by a paper bag, into the company car. They ordered the messengers to put their heads down as far as possible, then snatched the money which was in small denominations—nothing larger than a $20 bill.

The men were believed to have had guns in the paper bags.

Seconds after snatching the money the men ran to the auto which had blocked the company car in the front. They sped away a few blocks, abandoned the machine and stepped into still another car, and sped away. The license number of the car was spotted by an off-duty policeman. It was learned this car also had been stolen.

MENZIES MISSION ADJOURNS WITHOUT COMMENT AFTER A SESSION OF THREE HOURS

By TOM MASTERSON

Cairo (P)—The Menzies mission conferred privately for nearly three hours today and adjourned without announcing whether it would meet again with President Nasser on the Suez Canal situation.

A spokesman refused to comment on reports the mission has failed to get Nasser to agree to international control of the canal and that the next moves are up to Washington and London.

He said the mission did not come to Cairo to find a solution to the Suez crisis, but to find a starting point for negotiations.

Nasser left Cairo for Alexandria, the Mediterranean summer resort and Egypt's main port. Nasser's family has been vacationing there this summer, and he usually goes there on the weekend to visit them.

Pessimism pervaded both the Egyptian and the foreign quarters of Cairo following the reports the Menzies mission had failed. It was generally agreed the mission was awaiting word from London and Washington before making its next move—even to setting a time for the next meeting with Nasser.

It appeared little progress had been made toward finding a starting point for negotiations.

The mission spokesman said another meeting with Nasser will be held before the mission leaves, though it may be only a courtesy session.

Both Egyptian sources close to the government and Western diplomats in London reported last night a deadlock in the talks between the five-nation committee headed by Australian Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies and Egyptian President Nasser.

Menzies was said to be waiting for some word from Washington and London that might yet salvage his mission.

The informants said Nasser has refused to accept the 18-nation plan for international operation of the 103-mile waterway.

The U. S. State Department had no comment on that assertion. There was, however, unofficial speculation in Washington that Egyptian talk of "U. S. intervention" was aimed at driving a wedge between the United States and its allies.

Britain's Prime Minister Eden, who has said his country cannot accept Egypt's unfettered control of the Suez, called Parliament in to special session next Wednesday to discuss the canal situation.

There were rumors here—unconfirmed by any official source—that Prime Minister Eden would stake the life of his Conservative government on an appeal to the House of Commons to support the way he planned to handle the crisis.

Jaycees Handling Reserved Seat Sale For Football Games

The Warren Jaycees wish to remind all Warren football fans that reserved seat tickets may be purchased for the Warren-Corry football game until Saturday noon. The United Cigar Store, Mack's Newsstand and the B&B Smoke Shop will be selling tickets to the reserved section for a twenty-five cent donation to the Warren War Memorial Field Fund. This donation does not cover the football admission price, but entitles the ticket holder to sit in the reserved section, which is on the visitors' side of the field.

Besides handling the sale of reserved seat tickets at War Memorial Field prior to the game, the Jaycees will also furnish personnel to supervise the parking lot adjacent to the field. The charge for parking in this area will be a minimum donation of twenty-five cents to the War Memorial Field Fund.

The Jaycees urge all Warren football fans to attend all of the high school football games this year, not only to lend support to the team, but to contribute to the War Memorial Field Fund, by taking advantage of the availability of reserved seats and parking.

Committee for a New High School Is Sponsored by JC's

A new high school for the Warren area was discussed last night at a meeting attended by representatives from ten parent organizations and of the Warren Junior Chamber of Commerce. A Citizens Committee for a new high school was formed, the membership of which will be broadened by asking other organizations in the Warren school area to join.

At the meeting held in the Jefferson room of the Warren Public Library the committee, organized under the auspices of the Jaycees, adopted a three-point program. It will obtain and study the facts related to a new high school, serve as a medium to distribute information to citizens of the area, and attempt to keep the Warren Area Joint School committee informed concerning the wishes of the public.

The committee announced it would also concern itself with the possibilities of a new location as well as the facilities necessary for an adequate school.

Representatives were present from the Home Street Parents Club, Lacy, Seneca, McClintock, Jefferson, East Street, North Warren, Glade Township, Mead Township, Pleasant Township, PTA's, and the Jaycees. They adopted a motion to thank the Jaycees for activating the committee and elected Duane Wilder temporary chairman, Mrs. Henry Wyman temporary secretary. The committee will meet again next Thursday.

A piece of copy which should have been thrown into the waste basket a week ago became mixed with another and as a result we carried an item on page 18 of Thursday's paper stating that Steelworkers at the Struthers Wells Corp. plant in Titusville had rejected an offer in an attempt to head off a strike. What we intended to mention was the fact that a total of 532 workers of the Struthers Wells Corp. Forge Works in Titusville received free X-rays there Wednesday by the mobile unit of the Crawford County Tuberculosis and Health Society. Our Tuesday issue carried a story conveying the good news that an agreement had been reached in contract negotiations over the weekend giving workers in the Titusville plant "more than Big Steel unions received." Struthers Wells employees are now covered by contracts for at least another year.

Forestry Official Is Honored at a Farewell Dinner

A farewell party for Don Taft was held by friends and members of Warren Field and Stream Club Thursday evening at Jackson Heights Restaurant, a group of 65 gathering for the dinner.

The general committee extends its thanks to the following persons for their humorous and interesting anecdotes concerning the honored guest: Don Curtis, toastmaster; Myron Jewell, who gave the invocation; Lyle Snively, Warren Field and Stream Club Member; Mac Geer, representing the Sanitary Water Board; Guy Swanson, for the Forestry Department; Howard Lauffenberger, church activities; Cecil Winans, Boy Scouts; Jack Reddehoff, Warren High School Conservation Class; Curt Saserson, hunting experiences with Don, and Dick Lauffenberger, remarks as a neighbor.

The Taft's new residence will be in Silver City, N. M., and, since the attire is different in that area, Lyle Snively showed the honored one some of the wearing apparel necessary for his new wardrobe in the wild and wooly west. These items included cowboy boots, spurs, levis, shirt, bandana, and a derby "for an eastern dude".

In conclusion, a beautiful yellow gold wrist watch was presented to Mr. Taft, along with "fond memories and best wishes from his many friends and associates".

Relative of Warren leads Apostolic in Bhagalpur, India

Father Urban McGarry, T. O. R., native of Warren, and since 1940 missionary in India, has been named head of the newly created prefecture Apostolic of Bhagalpur, India, according to a recent dispatch from Vatican City.

This appointment by Pope Pius XII, places him in charge of the church in the district, as, in fact, missionary bishop. The new prefect, a member of the Franciscan Third Order Regulars, was born on November 14, 1910, educated at Francis College, Loretto, Pa., and St. Albert's Seminary, Ranchi, India. He was ordained in 1942 at Ranchi.

Father McGarry visited relatives and friends here recently, his first trip home since 1940. He has a sister Mrs. Merle Gaghan, of Center street, and a cousin, Richard Grace, who is an employee in the Times-Mirror composing room.

LETTERS TO EDITOR

Warren Times-Mirror
Warren, Pennsylvania
Gentlemen:
Re: High School.
To remodel—modernize the present structure? This I am in favor of.

To buy a new location and build a new modern structure? This I am not in favor of.

The answer should take into consideration the great advance in mechanics, engineering, and science that has come about since the present building was erected. It seems possible Warren had no automobiles (maybe one) and no paved streets except for a short distance on Pennsylvania avenue when the present High School building was erected.

In building for the education of the future engineers and scientists, it seems as though the channeling of education should be toward these objects and also to the great scope of international relations. Each stage in the development of mankind requires a new outlook and adaptability.

HAL BOYLE'S COLUMN

By HAL BOYLE
New York (AP)—Curbstone reflections of a Pavement Plato:
Now is the time to feel sorry for yourself.

If there is any one month in the year when practically everybody gives way to the yearning to be someone else, it is in September.

The child, stricken with the feeling his days of barefoot freedom are over, tells his dad:
"Boy, do I wish I was you! Then I wouldn't have to go to school!"

The father, if he is equally frank replies:
"Boy, don't I wish I was you, and could go to school instead of work?"

And mother, hearing them both, murmurs silently to herself:
"My don't I wish I was either of you. Then I wouldn't have to worry about taking down the summer draperies, and starting fall housecleaning."

Each has his point. The grass always looks greener on the other side of the fence that hems us in during the final days of summer.

The mere mention of fences brings a shudder to the politician. That's all he'll be doing from now until election time — mending one fence after another.

This disease of discontent we're all going through now is like a late attack of spring fever, a regret that vacation time is over and we must return again to the reality of the daily struggle.

But the return to reality is doubly hard when the noon sun still holds a languor and the night is still loud with katydid clamor and the lonesome cry of the whippoorwill.

The wage slave, unwilling as any schoolboy, goes back to a desk piled high with postponed chores, and has little heart to tackle them.

He has to shake his head to dispel the recurring daydream of a silver fish leaping at twilight in a quiet mountain lake, the fish he almost caught just a few days before. Or was it years? He can't be sure. It already seems so long ago.

The office stenographer, wistfully noting as she puts on her morning lipstick that her vacation tan is already beginning to fade, also dreams of "the one that got away"—the bachelor she met on her cruise.

"Now I've got to hunt for a new one," she thinks to herself crossly. "If the Lord had to put men in the world, why did he have to make it so hard to find a good one?"

The boss, trying to restore a little pep in the place, calls a conference and tells his salesmen:
"All right, boys, the joyride is over. It's time to hit the ball again. We've got a lot of good hard selling to do between now and Christmas to make our quota. And I don't mid telling you right now that if we don't make our quota, there'll be some new faces around here after the first of the year.

"Remember, it's a team job, and I'm counting on every man who expects to stay on this team to get in there and start pitching hard."

After the conference is over, the boss cautiously closes his door, lies down on his couch and wonders if he really wouldn't enjoy life more if he were a beachcomber.

So it goes with schoolchild, housewife, bus driver or business executive — each wonders if it wouldn't be better to be somebody else. Anybody else.

What we really need right now is a good heavy snowfall. Then we'd all snap out of our end-of-summer doldrums and get back to the hurry-up tempo of normal civilized living.

Coiffure Time Savers Introduced

Three new products for hair will aid women who want to face fall with a new, glowing coiffure, but who find themselves pressed for time. A new home permanent (left) has an extra-penetrating wave lotion that allows a woman to give herself a permanent with 26, rather than 40, curlers. A no-water, no-rinse shampoo (center) is for the gal with a date and no time to dry her hair. A shampoo that washes and tints the hair (right) combines two operations.

BEAUTY takes time. Not a lot of time all at once, but a minute a day for this and an hour a week for that. It takes regular application and a good schedule.

Unfortunately, we don't always have even that minute. In every woman's life there comes a day when she must borrow a pair of stockings because she was short of those 10 minutes to wash lingerie. It shouldn't happen, but it does.

Here are three new hair products aimed at keeping beauty at par, even when time has run short. They are designed to do the job in less time and help one meet the deadline with a letter-perfect coiffure.

The first is an extra-powerful home permanent. The more penetrating lotion makes it possible to put the hair up in half the number of curlers and still come out with a satisfactory job. This by no means eliminates the other processes in giving one's self a permanent, but it does reduce the time it takes to get the hair up.

The second product is a waterless, rinsless shampoo. Since the hair isn't wet with water, the alcohol in the shampoo is able to dry the hair with the help of a towel in jiffy time. This shampoo will be a boon to the gal who arrives almost to date time with unwashed hair. It's not designed for regular use and the manufacturer is wise to point this out. Good, regular shampooing is essential to beauty. But this new product will probably help a lot of gals get out of a tight squeeze for time.

The third product is a shampoo that washes and tints the hair at the same time, thereby, sandwiching two beauty tasks into one operation. For the gal who hasn't time for a touch-up or even a rinse, this product may be an aid. It comes in a variety of shades.

Jaycees Sponsor Projects To Raise Money for Field Fund

GEORGE COHAN
Jaycee President Robert Geiger announced today that George Cohan, (right), has been appointed to the Chairmanship of the annual Jaycee Project to raise additional funds for the War Memorial Field Improvement Fund.
This project which embraces three sub-committee projects is another step in the local Junior Chamber's civic development program. Reserved seats, currently on sale in downtown business locations, parking, and soft drink and hot dog concessions will once again be under Jaycee supervision with the proceeds all to be turned over to the Memorial Field Fund.
Members of this committee for the 1956 Football season include William Hesch, Tom Schorman, John Stackowiak. The project got off to a good start with sale of soft drinks during the annual inter-squad game labor day.
In the past the Jaycees have enjoyed excellent cooperation from the Student Council of the local high school.
Chairman Cohan stated that it was the desire of this year's committee to top all previous highs in funds turned into the War Memorial Field Improvement Fund and he has asked the cooperation of all Jaycees in assisting the committee in realizing these goals

Cooperation With the Safety Patrol Urged by AAA Posters

The first AAA safety posters of the new school year are being distributed today by Warren County Motor Club. The theme of the bright red, white and blue poster is "Help Your Safety Patrol."
Dr. Quay A. McCune, president, said that achieving complete cooperation between the Patrol boys and girls and the youngsters they protect is the first objective of the elementary school safety program carried on in Warren County schools.
"The record which the School Safety Patrol has made throughout the nation proves its effectiveness as a force for reducing traffic deaths and injuries among school children," Dr. McCune said. "However, the Patrols are not a police force. They must rely on voluntary cooperation from other boys and girls, and that can only come about when the youngsters understand that the Patrols are there to help them."
The Motor Club official asked parents to stress with their own children the need for obeying signals of the Patrols as a supplement to the teaching they will get in school. He pointed out that repetition of the poster message is necessary to firmly establish it in young minds.
The poster, which is part of the

WINNER 12TH NATIONAL TRAFFIC SAFETY POSTER CONTEST
Club's regular monthly safety education program, was designed by Richard Gorda, a senior at Collinwood High School, Cleveland, Ohio. Richard prepared the poster for the Eleventh National School Traffic Safety Poster Contest, sponsored by the American Automobile Association. The poster won a first prize in the senior division of the contest and was later selected by the judges for reproduction and national distribution.

Skinny Fall Clothes Need a Foundation

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor
SOME day the really fat among us may rebel, but meanwhile fashion rushes down her festive path with clothes that are ever-slimmer, ever higher-waisted and ever more revealing of that extra pound around the hips.
News notes for fall from the world of women's clothes, emphasize the sheath. This was once sufficient description, but today one must add that the sheath is toothpick-like. Mighty feminine, but mightily demanding of the figure thereunder.
Which leads us to the foundation department. Any woman who tries to stuff herself into one of these slim garments, particularly the knits, without the friendly but firm aid of a foundation will probably feel she ought to scoot to the stylish stout department, even if she weighs only 105.
Nice news for wear under these demanding clothes is a torso bra, something that takes care of bosom, diaphragm, waist and hips.
One new item from a leading manufacturer is a torso bra of cotton with latex back and side panels. It's embroidered over the bosom and on the front panel. Glad tidings for the gal without a helpful husband is that the item zips up the front, thereby eliminating the contortions

New Spray Fragrance

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor
EVERY time a woman turns her back, another manufacturer captures his fragrance and packs it in an aerosol container.
The advantages of the aerosol, press-squirt packaging for perfumes are evident to those who have used one. Evaporation is cut down, the package is generally unbreakable and always has a safety cap that makes it spillproof for packing and traveling.
Most manufacturers have compensated for the fact that the color of the fragrance is no longer visible by making the package prettily shaped and handsomely decorated, so it remains an ornament to a dressing table.
Most manufacturers are also not blind to the fact that a woman who's forgotten to put fragrance on her skin before dressing can make up the lack with a good squirt or two, without damaging her clothes.
The newest maker to utilize the aerosol container has put up five popular fragrances in what he calls his mist essence. This bottle, which has a feminine shape, has an extra-fine spray which the maker promises will help the fragrance last longer.
The bottles are four-ounce ones and are colored differently for each scent: cerise and gold, brown and gold, turquoise and gold, blue and gold, lavender and gold.

New aerosol bottle for five favorite scents has an extra-fine spray designed to make fragrance last.

SOCIETY

MRS. ROBERT W. KING

—Glenn's Studio

A double ring ceremony was performed in First Evangelical United Brethren church at 2:00 p. m. August 25 to unite in marriage DeAnn Carol Swanson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rueben C. Swanson of 9 Alston street, and Robert W. King, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. King, 104 Eddy street.

The Rev. Charles B. Kinney officiated, with music furnished by the organist, C. T. Fritchard, and vocalist, James Thompson of Youngville. His selections were "Because," "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer." The altar was banked with palms and white gladioli, with candelabra holding lighted tapers.

The bride, escorted and given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white bombazine taffeta, the bodice bodice fashioned with sweetheart neckline, outlined in alencon lace, and having scalloped sleeves complemented by mitts. The grateful bouffant skirt was ballerina length and her illusion veil fell to her fingertips from a small cloche embroidered with seed pearls and sequins. She completed her ensemble with a pearl necklace, gift of the bridegroom, and a white prayer book topped by white roses, ivy sprays and streamers.

Judy Wood, as maid of honor, wore a ballerina gown of rose taffeta, styled on princess lines, with scoop neckline, quarter length sleeves, and draped back panel. Wearing like models, bridesmaids were Jean Ann Hallgren, in turquoise; Virginia Wilcox and Barbara King, sister of the bridegroom, in yellow. Their headbandeaux were rosebuds and each carried a colonial bouquet of roses and white pom poms. Flower girl for her cousin was little Susie Mangini, dressed in blue, with white flowers in her hair, and carrying a white basket of rosebuds and daisies.

Wearing pink rosebuds and white pom poms, the bride's mother chose rose lace over taffeta and navy accessories. Mrs. King was in navy with white accents. A reception for 125 guests was held in Folkman parlors of the church immediately following the ceremony. The four-tier wedding cake was decorated with the traditional bride and bridegroom, and was surrounded by spring erie and rosebuds. Mrs. Guyma Fredricks and Mrs. Lucy Hagstrom poured; Sandra Gustafson was at the punch bowl; Mrs. Gladys Swanson, aunt of the bride, served the cake; Esther Williams, of Jamestown, N. Y., was in charge of the guest book, and aides were Marysue Lanning, Beverly Mathis and Sally Watt.

The Rev. Rocco Tito officiated and the bride's cousin, Joseph Guffre, accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Donald Edinger, sang several selections during the ceremony.

Escorted by her father, the bride was lovely in a white tulle length gown of lace over taffeta, fashioned with V-cut neckline and bodice. Fly panels of lace over tulle accented the full skirt. Her fingertip veil was attached to a circular crown and she carried a corsage of white stephanotis and streamers atop her white prayer book.

Mary Mangus, as her sister's maid of honor, wore tulle length champagne lace over taffeta, with a lace half-hat and mitts of hme green. Her flowers were a cascade of golden pom poms.

Best man was Gene Becker, brother-in-law of the bridegroom; ushers were John Mangus and Stephen Cosmano, brother and cousin of the bride, respectively.

The bride's mother selected a dress of taupe, with brown and gold accessories and a corsage of yellow sweetheart roses. The bridegroom's mother chose gray lace, with white accessories and corsage of pink sweetheart roses.

A luncheon for the wedding party and immediate families followed at the Blue and White Restaurant, and the reception was held from two until five o'clock at the home of the bride. Guests were present from Philadelphia, Harrisburg, Erie, Akron, Lockport and State College.

For going-away, the bride wore a yellow faille sheath, styled with matching bolero, and black accessories.

St. Joseph's Unit Plans Open Session

The first fall meeting of St. Joseph's Parent-Teacher Unit will be held at eight Tuesday evening in the school basement. Visitation of the school rooms will take place from 7 to 8 and will give the parents an opportunity to meet the sisters and new members will be able to look over the school.

An open meeting will be held, with Robert McCoy presiding.

Mrs. Rose Clare Curran will ask for volunteers to help in the new project of banking being introduced at this time in the school. It will start Tuesday morning. Forms were given the pupils yesterday and are to be filled in and signed by parents.

The idea is new in this school and will afford the children a means of saving regularly and learning the value of banking. It is the desire of the committee in charge that parents will co-operate by encouraging the children to save—not a large sum occasionally but rather a small sum regularly.

Officers will have charge of refreshments after the meeting.

BIBLE CLUB MEETING

Warren County Bible Club Movement will meet at 8:00 p. m. Monday in the YMCA chapel. Parents interested in Bible Club instruction for their children are asked to be present to witness teaching of a typical story by the movement's county missionary, Mrs. Mae Munser. The monthly missionary offering will be received during the Sunday School Hour. This is the church school's share in the support of Rev. and Mrs. Frank Young and family in the Kentucky mission area and there remains just this month and next to meet the $250 goal.

In the evening service, first for the new year, the topic will be Highlights of the Annual Conference, with Lay Delegate Floyd Conklin, presenting his report to the congregation.

Events of the parish in the coming week: Tuesday evening, the board of Christian education will meet at the church to discuss organization of Boys' and Girls' and Intermediate Fellowship groups; Wednesday, prayer meeting and Bible study at 7:30, and senior choir practice, 8:30.

On Thursday evening, the WSWs will hold its regular meeting at the church, with Mrs. Ethel Harriger and Mrs. Lois Baker as leaders; Mrs. Floyd Conklin and Mrs. Gertrude Smith, hostesses. The librarian asks that all who have overdue WSWs books will return them as soon as possible.

Is Late Summer Bride

At 2:00 p. m. August 25 in Grace Methodist church, Dr. H. H. Barr officiated for the double ring ceremony which united in marriage Carole Ann Peterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Peterson of 13 North Irvine street, and Robert Porter Wolfe, son of Mrs. Eleanor Seder of 109 North South street.

White glads and candelabra holding white tapers formed the simple setting. Richard Pratt was at the organ and Earl Ericson sang "Bless This House", "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer".

Traditional white imported Swiss organdy, delicately embroidered, fashioned the bride's gown. It was styled with portrait neckline, and brief sleeves in a moulded bodice, with hoop skirt of fine embroidered tiers lengthening into a cotillion sweep. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was caught to a shell of matching organdy and an orchid topped her prayer book.

She was given in marriage by her father; had her sister, Connie Peterson, as maid of honor; and as bridesmaids, Martha Barrett, Virginia Berdine and Janice Scallie. Attendants were gowned alike in antique crystalettes in shades of cerise and peacock blue, with portrait neckline in the elongated basque, push-up sleeves, and bouffant waist length skirt.

Matching headbands and accessories completed their ensembles. The flower girl, Nancy Kelly, wore white nylon net and lace, with a headpiece of white and peacock carnations, and carried a basket of rose and gladioli petals.

William Wolfe was best man for his brother; ushers were Louis Hartweg, John Sherwood and James Sturdevant, with Michael Brindis as ring bearer.

Mrs. Peterson wore beige accessories and an orchid with a brown sheath jacket dress, and Mrs. Seder chose navy blue with white accents and white carnations.

The reception for 200 guests followed immediately in the YWCA, with Mrs. Charles Petersen, Mrs. William Wolfe, Mrs. Charles Kelly, Mrs. Ray Scallie, Connie Miner, Mrs. Frank Nichols and Mrs. Basil Manchester as aides.

Out of town guests were from New Orleans, Westfield, Clarendon, Tiona, and Edinboro.

For a wedding trip to Warrenton, Va., the bride selected a black and white sheath dress, matching coat, and a white orchid.

Returning, the newlyweds are at home to friends at 16 1/2 South Irvine street. A 1955 graduate of Warren High, the bride is employed by the Bell Telephone Company; the bridegroom is a WWS alumnus and a Sylvania employee.

Hostesses who honored the bride-elect were Carol Schmonsky, Florence Johnson, Mrs. Willard Winerter, Mrs. William Wolfe, Mrs. Kingsley Culbertson, Connie Peterson, Mrs. Gail Schaffer, Virginia Berdine, Janice Scallie, Marilyn Pastrick, and Martha Barrett.

Plan Organization Service of Pleasant Twp. Church

Public Cordially Invited to Impressive Ceremony To Be Held Sunday Night at 7:30

At 7:30 p. m. Sunday in First Lutheran church, the public is cordially invited to share in the ceremonies by which a church is born, the occasion being the organization service of Saint John's Evangelical Lutheran church in Pleasant township.

Participating ministers will be the Rev. Paul Daugherty, DD, missionary superintendent of the Pittsburgh Synod; the Rev. Dale Soderberg, president of the North East Conference; the Rev. Stephen Stofcheck, Jr., pastor of Mt. Olivet Lutheran church, Pittsburgh; and pastors F. B. Haer and V. Theodore Benson, of First church.

Pastor Haer will preach the sermon, using as his theme "To the Glory of God"; and there will be special musical selections.

St. John's church is the result of First Church's interest in developing a mission congregation in Pleasant township. In retrospect, it is seen this interest developed some years ago, when the Rev. Edward K. Rogers, former pastor, in his 1949 annual report to the congregation, recommended that the "Church Council be instructed to further consider the possibility of beginning mission work in the Pleasant township area". Also, to secure necessary property subject to congregational approval. The recommendation was approved.

Prior to this, an area canvass, conducted by the Rev. McCurtis W. Allison, assistant pastor, revealed a need in this steadily growing area.

At a regular meeting of the Church Council, held March 19, 1951, approval was granted to purchase two lots costing $1,200. An additional lot to the rear, costing $500, was donated by August Gross, of Irvine, in 1954, thus making the plot of sufficient size for future building needs.

Worship services were begun on December 6, 1953, in the Pleasant Township Fire Hall by the Rev. Stephen Stofcheck, Jr., assistant pastor of First Church. In April, 1954, services were moved to the Pleasant Grange Hall, where the furniture could be arranged for a more worshipful atmosphere.

By the end of 1954, there were 40 members on the Charter Roll, that number increasing to the present adult membership of 80. Since the first worship service in 1953, regular services have been held at 9:30 a. m. each Sunday without a single exception.

Development of the mission to its present status has been unique in many respects. The entire cost of development has been borne by First Church. Its willingness to have its assistant pastor serve the mission at no cost to the Synodical Board of American Missions is almost unique in the history of missions in the Pittsburgh Synod.

Unusual, also, is the fact that most of those who signed the Charter List, and have encouraged its development, are members of First Church residing in the area. While retaining membership on the rolls of First Church, they have considered themselves, from the beginning, members of the mission.

A Mission Committee of three from First Church Council has aided the pastors in encouraging and developing the mission. Karl Tumm, chairman of this committee since its beginning, has given unselfishly of his time and talents to the work of the mission. Individuals and organizations of First Church have given of their time and material gifts to initiate the work and bring it to its present fruition.

St. John's Lutheran church will be located in an area comprised of approximately 1,000 adults with no established church. About 20 new homes are erected in this area each year, and it is reasonable to assume this growth will be accelerated in the future.

While many people of the community have not responded to the effort of establishing a new congregation with any great enthusiasm, it is the firm belief of the sponsors that when a new church has been built in the community, a new enthusiasm will result.

A cordial invitation is extended to all people of the community to join with the St. John's Lutheran congregation in planting the Church in the blessed name of Jesus Christ, her chief cornerstone.

National Plowing Matches To Be Spotlighted by Candidates

Newton, Iowa (AP)—Each presidential year of late, something happens to the national plowing matches. The top political campaigners grab the spotlight.

The 1956 event will be held on the Henry Steenhoek farm here Sept. 20-21-22. Adlai Stevenson, Democratic candidate for president, has promised the field days committee that he will speak here Saturday, Sept. 22.

President Eisenhower yesterday announced he would speak at the field days Sept. 21.

Their coming would seem to rank the Newton gathering politically with the 1952 event at Kasson, Minn., where the same presidential candidates expounded their farm views; and with the 1948 field days at Dexter, Iowa, where President Truman made his major pitch for midwestern votes.

Asked if he was prepared to entertain the President and Stevenson if they stopped in his yard en route to the speaking rostrum, Steenhoek, 41, a grain and livestock farmer, replied: "Well, I think we could scare up a cup of coffee or a meal such as us farmers have." Steenhoek, his wife and three sons, live in an older house on the farm he bought three years ago, but they move into a brand new seven-room house after the field days.

Ex-Convict Faces Charges After Highway Fatalities

Pittsburgh (AP)—An ex-convict accused of killing two pedestrians with a stolen auto is awaiting action by a coroner's jury on murder charges.

Abram Bishop, 37, of Pittsburgh was charged with murder yesterday in the deaths of an unidentified man and Charles Stonecker, 57, of Mt. Pleasant.

Police said he was driving a stolen car that struck and killed the two men in the Hill District on Labor Day. A third man, Paul Alden, 37, of Pittsburgh, was critically injured.

Though the filing of a murder charge in a traffic death is rare, it has been done before, according to veteran members of the coroner's staff.

For big jobs, small jobs, all jobs —

Ford Trucks Cost Less!

"I earn as much as $30 a day more because my Ford T-800 tandem job can carry more payload than comparable trucks," says timber-hauler Clarence Landwing.

"Low cost, dependability, toughness—that's what I get in Ford trucks," says John Karkis. "Ford's power takes me through tough going that would stop many another truck."

Ford's low initial prices mean real savings, to be sure. But the on-the-job savings you get in Ford trucks count even more!

Take running costs; they're downright low. Because Ford—and only Ford—gives you the gas and oil economy of modern Short Stroke power in every truck. Only Ford has a Short Stroke Six and seven Short Stroke V-8's—backed by over 5 billion miles of on-the-job experience.

Upkeep costs are low because Ford trucks are built extra strong. They outlast all other leading makes—a fact certified by independent insurance experts. That same stand-up ruggedness means greater dependability, too.

And when it comes time to trade—you'll gain from Ford's traditionally high resale value, too. You'll find that, from start to finish, Ford trucks cost less.

THE BIG FLEETS BUY MORE FORD TRUCKS THAN ANY OTHER MAKE

Ford Trucks last longer

Using latest registration data on 10,502,351 trucks, life insurance experts prove Ford trucks last longer.

"When you figure low running and upkeep costs, high trade-in and low price, we feel that nothing can beat Ford trucks for value," Charles Sofer, president of I. Hart & Co.

"Ford's Short Stroke engine design and rugged chassis mean low operating and maintenance costs," says John Coleman, whose firm operates 45 Ford C-750's.

Sensational Swaps Is Acquired by New Owners

Atlantic City, N. J. (AP)—When Swaps, the sensational record smashing 4-year-old colt from California, makes his next appearance in the $100,000 U. N. Handicap Sept. 15, it'll be in the interests of Rex Ellsworth and John W. Galbreath.
Ellsworth, rapidly building one of the country's foremost breeding farms, yesterday announced the sale of half-interest in the son of Khalid to the master of the Darby Dan Farm of Ohio. Galbreath, a real estate operator, also is president of the Pittsburgh Pirates of the National League.
Neither Ellsworth, who jumped into national prominence when Swaps beat Nashua in the 1955 Kentucky Derby, nor Galbreath would announce the money involved in the surprise deal.

String of 17 Victories on the Line as Blue & White Launch The 1956 Season on Saturday

A zestful, if light and relatively inexperienced, Warren High School football team will confront a strong Corry eleven on Memorial Field tomorrow afternoon. A string of 17 games without a loss will be on the line.

Last year's championship Dragons eked out a 6-0 triumph over the Corry squad. Since then, nine of the 11 local starting line-up have graduated while opposition will have what Coach Fred Bell describes as "vets," adding, "they have good size, good speed."

Coach Bell has previously described this year's high school Dragon team as one of the most willing groups he has ever supervised. He noted though that they lacked the polish and experience which last year carried the Dragons to Section 2 and Northwestern Pennsylvania championships.

Bob Hartnett, a regular at right halfback, will be benched with a bad blister on his heel.

Three sophomores have won starting berths on the defensive squad as they showed well in pre-season scrimmages. They are Louie Mascaro, defensive halfback; Jim Olson, line backer, and Bill Merwine, defensive tackle.

Prior to the opening game which kicks off at 1:30 p. m. Saturday, the Sheffield High School team will play the Warren Reserves in Sheffield beginning at 4 p. m. this afternoon. Coaching the Jayvees this year are Angelo Jullano and Warren Carr.

Assistant coach Ralph Beights has been line coach for Fred Bell during the rigorous pre-season practices and helped whip into early season shape those lads who will be on hand for relief play: Mohnkern, Rasmussen, Salerno on the left side of the line; McCune at center, Stenberg, Rosequist, Sanden bolstering the right line side and Whitford, Mascaro and Bowen in the backfield.

Corry mentor Lou Hanna will be out to snap the Dragon's 17-game win-and-tie record and his squad this year is a band of Beavers well calculated to bring into top effectiveness the tricky brand of ball he teaches.

Probable Corry lineup will have Yanssens at left end; Kauer at left tackle; Nichols, left guard; Brigham, center; McMullin, right tackle; Turner, right end; Scott, quarter; Mitchell, left half; Toner, right half; French, fullback.

Big threat on the Corry Beavers is Connie French, a convert from tackle to fullback, who packs his 210 pounds into a 6 foot, 2 inch body which sprints the 100-yard dash in 10 seconds flat.

Speaking of Sports ...

If there is one person in the world who has faith in baseball in general and the PONY League in particular, its 22-year-old Norm Tanner, a coming righthander whose record was 12 wins against 8 losses in the past season as he performed on the mound for Coaling Red Sox, a farm team of the Bosox down east.

Norm, stopping in town just long enough to deliver his finest pitch to date (a perfect boy at Warren General), can see no reasonable end to the Pony League this year, despite Hamilton, Bradford and Jamestown sinking from the league with veiled threats of continued discontinuance.

In talking with officials of the presently defunct Hamilton Pony League team, Norm said it seems almost positive that with new backing which Hamilton is angling for, they will be back on deck when "play ball" call rolls around the field next spring.

The Elmira nine could also pop into the PONY League next year, according to Tanner. Elmira, at one time a contender in Eastern League and Class A baseball, now seems toying with a PONY League Class D club, Norm said.

And as for Jamestown. The bright, young pitcher had nothing but praise for the also-now-defunct Falcons who have played to a series of smaller and smaller fair-weather crowds since winning the PONY League championship a few years back. Aside from the calibre of the Falcons (who this year placed Catcher Antoine and Pitcher Regan on the PONY League All-Star first team, Shortstop Kostro on the second team, and Second baseman Young, Centerfielder Queen and Rightfielder Spynalski on the third team) the new pitching father called the Falcons home field, Jamestown's Municipal Stadium, the most beautifully landscaped of any he had seen this side of the majors.

But the weather had held the Falcons back this year, except when it opposed Tanner. He dropped four of his eight losses to the Jamestown nine and his respect was healthy. He added that since midseason, most all the teams in the league had played identical ball.
Tanner noted, too, that the calibre of the play in the Class D (supposedly) circuit was somewhat underrated. He admitted, under questioning, that the three pitching regulars of Corning Red Sox would be in Class B and perhaps Class A next spring. (Tanner himself was under a Class B contract with Greensboro this year but a lack of Bosox teams had farmed him and many other top contenders into a lower classification.)

Jamestown—Stateline Speedway comes back to normal this Saturday on the heels of a rain-split Labor Day weekend program that drew over 4,000 stock car enthusiasts to this newest of Jamestown-area tracks.

Manager Len Briggs, who took a promotional gamble and won when fans flocked in droves to see the spectacular Jack Kochman Hell Drivers, said yesterday the track would hold a regular 25-lap feature card this Saturday at 8:30 p. m.

"Regular" in Briggs' terms can be taken to mean almost anything but is more probable to include three heats, two semi-finals, a consolation and the feature, which for the past weeks has been won by Jamestown's Joe Sauer.

Drivers of the 1949-1956 models number such favorites as Sauer, who teamed with fellow Jamestown Sammy LaMancuso to capture last Sunday's 150-lap two-car team chase, Ken Mains, Rudy Parks and Gus Nelson of Bradford, Dean Layfield of Wellsville, Don Bailey of Brockway, Allen Stearns of South Dayton and Jamestowners Freddie Knapp, John Seely and Ken Johnson.

National League Is a Three-Way Scrap But Teams To Beat Are Bucs, Braves and Phils

By ED WILKES

The Associated Press

This may be the scrawniest National League pennant race yet. With four weeks to go, it's a three-way scrap among Milwaukee, Cincinnati and Brooklyn — but the teams to beat are St. Louis, Chicago, Pittsburgh and Philadelphia.

The gimmick lies in what's left of the schedule—plus an odd similarity of records to date and the weather in Philadelphia and Milwaukee.

You can lose in Brooklyn weather, too. Rain postponed the Dodgers' game with the New York Giants last night, the only contest scheduled in the NL.

Milwaukee and Cincinnati each have two games left with Brooklyn, all four at Ebbets Field, while meeting each other once, at that more or less leaves the winning of the pennant up to the games with the rest of the league—and here's how the many-sided gimmick works:

The first place Braves have two series and seven games left with last-place Chicago. The second-place Redlegs, meanwhile, play seven games in two series with fourth-place St. Louis. And the third place Dodgers play seven against sixth place Pittsburgh in two series.

Oddly enough, the Braves are 9-6 for the season against the Cubs—and the Redlegs are 9-6 vs. the Cardinals, and the Dodgers 9-6 vs. the Bucs.

Because of an earlier rainout, the Braves have a four-game series remaining in Philadelphia against the Phillies—only club in the league with an edge 10-8 over Milwaukee. Rain in Philly also leaves the Redlegs with a four-game set there—a pair of consecutive twilight doubleheaders that wraps up a season series standing at 9-9 at the moment.

Next Tuesday, the Braves play an "extra" game at Pittsburgh—the one caused by rain in Milwaukee last week.

Two of the Better Young "Heavies" Will Meet Tonight

New York (AP)—Harold Carter and Johnny Summerlin, two of the better young heavyweights of a drab collection of contenders, clash in a return bout at Madison Square Garden tonight with Carter an 8-5 favorite to reverse his defeat.

The 10-rounder will be broadcast and telecast, NBC, 9 p. m. EST, coast to coast.

In their first fight in Detroit, May 23, Carter, subbing on five-days notice for injured Bob Satterfield, dropped a unanimous 10-round decision to Summerlin, a 24-year-old ex-soldier from Detroit.

Satterfield was the next opponent for each. The hard-hitting, brittle-chinned Chicagoan outpointed Summerlin on June 20, snapping Johnny's 12-fight win streak. But Carter, a 22-year-old from Linden, N. J., found the button on Satterfield's jaw and stopped him in the fifth round on Aug. 1.

As a result of those last fights, Carter was ranked eighth and Summerlin ninth among the heavyweight contenders.

Tebbetts Gives Graham Credit for Team Surge

St. Louis (AP)—Birdie Tebbetts, manager of the surging Cincinnati Redlegs, today tabbed Alex Grammas as one of the reasons his club has moved into the National League pennant fight.

"He's made a big difference in our ball club the last three weeks since we've been using him," Tebbetts said.

The 29-year-old golden Greek had a big part in the Redlegs victory over the leading Milwaukee Braves Wednesday, getting three hits, scoring two runs and driving in four.

The Mature Parent

Afraid of What Son's Doing?
Then Admit to Him It's Fear

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

THE summer Mike was seven, his parents bought a house overlooking a bay. Offshore some yards was a huge black rock. At high tide, it became a popular diving base for older boys and girls. One afternoon as Mike's mother, her other guests and I were sunning ourselves, he yelled at us, "Watch how long I can stay under water!" Then, gasping for a chestful of air, he shut his eyes, grabbed his nose and sank to the bottom of an impressive number of moments.

When he re-emerged, he ran over to us, panting, dripping, fresh and cold from the sea and someone said, "My, that was fine! Soon you'll be able to dive from the big rock out there with the big kids, won't you?"

Mike was annoyed by the question. "I could dive from it now," he said curtly. "The only reason I can't is that Mother is afraid of me doing it." And left us to join a friend who'd caught a horseshoe crab by its tail.

CLEARLY Mike had been taught to disown his mother's fear of his diving, regarding it as a weakness of hers which he had to consider, not share.

Today, he's one of the most self-reliant young people I know. Why wouldn't he be? For years his parents have taken great care to present their fears for him as personal limitations, not rigid laws of safety. As a result, Mike inherits fewer anxieties than other children.

This column is for a mother who writes, "I can see that continual No's to children could make them afraid of any action. Yet we have to forbid many things they want to do as dangerous. How can we avoid infecting them with our anxieties?"

By remembering to claim the anxieties as our private belongings.

WHAT hurts children is our fears' suggestion that bad is the only possible result of their enterprise. This is not true. It is always possible that diving off the rock, riding the bike in traffic, going off on the unchaperoned weekend will reveal the child's strength, not his weakness to him. The problem is, we don't think they will.

So let's make that clear to the child. Instead of saying, "No, you can't ride your bike in traffic because you'll get killed!" let's say, "No, you can't ride it in traffic because I fear you'll get hurt. I'll try to overcome this fear. But until I do, I expect you to consider it."

A tyrant is a person who insists on everyone around him sharing his feelings. When, instead of asking children to respect our fears for them, we demand that they share them with us, we are tyrants over them.

Jungle Trapper Freed of Shooting Publisher

Ciudad Trujillo, Dominican Republic (AP)—Police have released Richard Weldy, 35, a jungle trapper questioned in the shooting of Robert Harrison, 50, publisher of Confidential magazine.

Weldy was turned loose last night. The police acted after Harrison told newsmen the shooting was an accident, he did not plan to file charges, and "Weldy is a nice person." Weldy had been jailed on a holding charge.

Harrison backed up Weldy's story that he dropped his shotgun by accident and it discharged. The shot wounded Harrison slightly in the shoulder.

State College Chapel To Honor Helen Eisenhower

Washington (AP)—President Eisenhower will attend ceremonies at Pennsylvania State University Sept. 16 dedicating a chapel to the late Mrs. Helen Eiken Eisenhower, his sister-in-law. She was the wife of Dr. Milton Eisenhower, former Penn State president.

Milton, brother of the President, resigned a few months ago and later was named head of Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore. His wife died while he was at Penn State.

The White House announcement yesterday said the President was not expected to speak at the dedication.

He will go to the university from his Gettysburg, Pa., farm home by car or plane, depending on the weather.

Based on
"USING YOUR BANK"
by Dr. George L. Leffer,
Professor of Finance, The Pennsylvania State University

Many people find that there are times when a cashier's check from their bank is a valuable and convenient way of taking care of certain payments. Sometimes a personal check is not acceptable because the maker of the check is not well-known or the amount involved is unusually large. A cashier's check is a bank's own check drawn on itself and signed by the cashier, who is an officer of the bank. Cashier's checks are payable to the payee designated by the purchaser, who need not necessarily be a depositor of the bank. The purchaser may pay for a cashier's check either with cash or with a personal check, depending on his relationship with the bank.

Banks also use cashier's checks to pay most of their own obligations. Many state banks call them "official checks", and trust companies often call them "treasurer's checks".

Recommendation of One- Man Grand Jury Ignored

Uniontown (AP)—Dist. Atty. Joseph E. Kovach of Fayette County says he plans no action on a report of racketeering in the county because the report was submitted by a newspaper editor as one member of a grand jury and not by the jury as a whole.

Joseph L. Dickson, editor of The Morning Herald and serving on the September Grand Jury, filed the report Wednesday, charging there is widespread gambling and prostitution in the county.

He said the other 16 members of the grand jury refused to sign the report.

Maturity Plan for Touch-Up

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

WHETHER a mature woman wants to admit that she touches up her hair, or not, is strictly her own decision. But she should never have that decision taken away from her by allowing the hair to grow out sufficiently to give away the facts.

And, strangely enough, the very women who let the hair grow in an inch or two at the roots in its natural color, are the very ones who protest most.

A woman who has her hair tinted at a salon should know how often it has to be done. And she should make her next appointment as she leaves from the last. Her social plans should be adjusted to this important matter, not vice-versa.

What generally happens is that a woman without her next appointment definitely set puts it off one night, then another. Pretty soon she has an inch-long underlayer of natural hair.

A woman who touches up her hair at home or has a friend or relative do it at home ought to take charge of buying her own preparations and making an "appointment" a few days before she's ready.

Since administering a touch-up is hard work, a mature woman is dependent upon the kindness of her daughter or sister for doing it. She ought to pick a time convenient for the amateur operator and come all prepared.

If the problem proves too difficult for a daughter to manage along with a home and children, a mature woman ought to save her coffee money and start making salon appointments.

MEETING OF MARINES

Among many reports presented at last night's meeting of the Marine Corps detachment, held in the VFW post rooms, was that of the picnic committee. The recent affair was attended by 40 persons and those not present missed out on a fine affair. Reminding that the unit increased its membership 100% in the past year, it was stated the officers, all reelected, hope to attain the same recognition next year. Acting on a letter from the state adjutant, stating the Pennsylvania convention may be held in Erie this year, the unit voted to send local representatives if Erie is the city chosen.

Dodgers in Vastly Different Position Than a Year Ago
Brooklyn (P)—A year ago, the Brooklyn Dodgers were just a day away from the earliest pennant clinching ever accomplished in the National League. Today, they have to win two just to stay healthy.
And it doesn't figure to be easy. This hasn't been 1955, when the Dodgers won their first 10 games, ran off with the flag and then wrapped up the world championship. This time it's tough.
Going into the twilight twilight with the New York Giants — set up by last night's rain-out in the scheduled opener of a four-game series — the Dodgers have swept only five doubleheaders all season, losing six and splitting six.
This also is their fourth doubleheader in seven days, which may account for Brooklyn's slump at the plate. With the hitters sagging it's been the pitching staff that has enabled the third place Dodgers to stay within two games of first place Milwaukee and a half game behind second place Cincinnati.

Guy With Problem in Present Campaign Is the Average Voter Who Is Not Mixed Up in Politics

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
Washington (AP)—The guy with the problem in this campaign is the average voter—the man who works all day and is not mixed up in politics—when he hears Democrats and Republicans shoveling out their one-sided stories.

Each tells what makes itself look good and the other side bad. How then is the average voter going to know where the whole truth lies, particularly when most of the issues they're talking about have roots going back for years?

He'd need a good filing system going back for years: Facts, dates and assorted information. But if he had all that, he'd find that in this complicated business of running the government neither side has a monopoly on virtue or wisdom.

Both have been involved in most of the events. A good example is the argument about living costs which have gone up about 2 per cent since President Eisenhower took office in January 1953.

The Republicans call that an excellent record. The Democrats believe it, warning about inflation. The Republicans don't say much about the possibility of a further increase as a result of boosts in steel prices.

But the Republicans point scornfully to the huge living cost increases which occurred under the Democrats. They don't talk about the part Republicans as well as Democrats played in shooting price controls full of holes after the war.

And the Democrats never like to talk about the increases under the Democrats. But perhaps this will put at least the story of living costs in focus. Living costs have risen 72 3/4 per cent since Jan. 1, 1941.

They rose only 22.7 per cent during World War II but 43.6 per cent since then.

But the way they went up, and why, is the story:

From Jan. 1, 1941 to the time of the Japanese surrender Aug. 14, 1945 living costs rose only 28.7 per cent even though the country was at war most of that time. The reason: Tight controls on wages, prices, and materials; high taxes that took away purchasing power for scarce goods. It was also a time when people were putting into the war bonds the money they couldn't spend on things they couldn't get.

On the day Japan surrendered living costs got a start upward, for President Truman pulled off a number of wartime controls. There had been a lot of pressure to get back to normal as soon as possible. Gas rationing, for instance ended on V-J day.

But the Office of Price Administration was still sitting on the lid in spite of enormous pressures it held down prices pretty well. The proof is in the figures: From the end of August 1945 until July 1, 1946, a period in which all kinds of controls were abandoned, living costs rose only 3 per cent.

But OPA would have ended June 30, 1946 unless Congress renewed it another year. It was a time when business was screaming to get free of controls. Congress renewed OPA in a bill which Truman vetoed late in June 1946. He said it was a wrecking bill, shot so full of holes that it would make OPA a mockery. He aimed hardest at the late Senator Robert A. Taft, Ohio Republican, who led the fight to put into the bill amendments which Truman said would make OPA unworkable.

But the Democrats were running Congress then. Taft got his amendments through only because enough Democrats went along with him to make it possible.

Late in July Congress passed, and Truman signed reluctantly—saying it was just a little better than nothing—another bill to continue OPA. But for a month there was practically no OPA. Prices shot up.

In that one month, July, 1946, living costs rose 6 per cent—twice the increase between Sept. 1, 1945 and June 30, 1946.

By December 1946, OPA was for all practical purposes abandoned. Prices, meanwhile, under that second OPA bill's provisions, were breaking through the ceiling. And by the time of the Korean War—that is, between Aug. 1, 1946 and July 1, 1950—living costs went up another 20.3 per cent.

Who's to blame for that? Taft? Truman? Democrats? Republicans? Or was it bad? Was it the price America had to pay—these increased living costs—to get back to a normal economy and full production? If controls had been continued a couple more years beyond December 1946, maybe the economy would have been ruined.

One thing was certainly wrong: The prediction made by Taft and others who wanted an end of controls: That if prices shot up, as they might temporarily, once controls were lifted, they'd come back down. They didn't.

Within a couple of months after the start of the Korean War the Democratic-run Congress gave Truman power to invoke controls again. He hesitated for months. And living costs shot up some more. Was he wrong? Nobody would say he was if the Korean War had ended in a couple of months, as some thought it would. But it didn't. And in January 1951, Truman slapped on controls again.

But meanwhile this had happened: Living costs rose 6.7 per cent between the start of the Korean War June 24, 1950 and Jan. 30, 1951. Truman invoked the controls Jan. 26, 1951. These controls put a brake on prices.

Between the end of January 1951 and January 1953, when Eisenhower took office, living costs rose another 5.1 per cent. By that time the country was fairly stable. When he took office, Eisenhower began to remove controls.

Between the time he took office and now living costs have gone up about 2 per cent. The people around Eisenhower have kept prices down by indirect controls on credit, among them raising interest rates to discourage borrowing.

Hints for Teen-Agers Buying Winter Coat

BY ALICIA HART, NEA Beauty Editor

A TEEN-AGER who's just beginning to manage her own wardrobe often finds that she has a raft of disorganized garments and "nothing to wear."

Fall is a good time to set out to correct this condition.

After a thorough survey of the closet and making the decisions about what's there and what's to be given away, swapped, remade, let out and repaired, the problem of how to allocate the budget comes up.

The winter coat is the first consideration. It's an expensive buy, no matter what price range you generally keep within.

If last winter's coat is one of the items in good condition and it still fits, this problem is avoided. However, it may be through after this season because of being outgrown or worn out.

If this is the case, start putting away a few dollars a week so that you'll be able to take advantage of the winter coat sales that will come along next spring. If a winter coat must be purchased, take careful stock of what will go best with your usual style of dressing. Fitted or not fitted, three-quarter or full length. If you have no dress-up coat, prepare to buy one that will do double duty.

If you give a coat hard wear (girls in cold climates do) pick a fabric that will hold up. If it gets extra cold in your area, investigate coats with zip-in linings. If you are going to have only one coat, remember that fancy fabrics or pile fabrics take longer to be dry cleaned and you may be without a coat longer than you'll want.

If you have to have a coat and it'll take many weeks a allowance or salary, try to float a loan with the family and pay it back. If this is impossible, many stores offer time payment plans. This will raise the cost, but if you must have a coat, you have no choice.
